TAX COMMITTEE ATTACKED Kindley and Winter Targets of Vitriolic Assaults by the Country Supervisors

County board fireworks records for 1916 went by the board at Tuesday afternoon's session when the rural minority of the supervisors turned the vitriol spray on the report of the assessment committee agent the shilling of the valuation of property in the city of La Crosse. Chairman John Kindley and Walter Winter, the latter a city assessor as well as member of the county board, were chief targets of the hail of verbal projectiles, and personalities flew like shrapnel while the engagement lasted. The city's majority in the board, however, prevailed to make the assessment ineffectual.

The meeting was enlivened, among other things, by an impassioned arraignment of the assessment committee by Assessor J. E. Keizer, in which he intimated that he was disgusted with his job under present conditions. The oratorical Donnybrook at this juncture saw a lively altercation between Mr. Keizer and Mr. Winter, which was only ended by vigorous gaveling.

The battle began when Supervisor J. H. Moran attempted to force adoption of the assessment figures of Mr. Keizer over the report of the board committee.

Supervisor Kindley was criticized by Moran for what he said was a tendency to cut down the city tax assessment each year and increase the value of country property. The two members wagged threatening fingers at each other, and Chairman Richard W. Davis was forced to insist that personalities be kept out of the debate.

A motion to adjourn, made by a member in the rear of the chamber, was hardly heard, and not considered in the maelstrom.

Supervisor Moran's motion to adopt the county's assessor's report was lost by a vote of twenty-two to eleven. A motion to adopt the other report won by the vote of twenty-five to eight.

The assessor's report gives the value of the county, including the city of La Crosse, as $45,939,744. The value found by the committee is $46,150,363. An increase of $210,619 was added by the committee's calculation to Keizer's valuation for property in the city of Onalaska, and all villages and towns. The sum of $164,091 was sliced from the city valuation. The figures form the basis of taxation for the year.

How They Voted

Those voting for Moran's motion were John L. Ash, Orrin Fletcher, Carl Hille, Samuel P. Markle, Fritz Meyer, J. H. Moran, J. N. Nelson, Adolph Nuttleman, Herman Rabe, William Schams and F. W. Storaardt. Those against the motion George H. Berger, George R. Carr, W. J. Dawson, N. M. Elstad, Frank Geisenheimer, E. W. Guenther, Louis C. Holm, Casper Johnson, A. C. Kaylor, John Kindley, Leonard Kleber, Arthur T. Matheson, by N. Moore, Archie Mosher, Joseph Rendler, J. H. Schubert, J. A. Skogen, B. J. Skogen, J. J. Verchota, W. C. Winter, Fritz Wolter and Chairman Davis. Four members of the board did not vote, being absent at the time.

"The tax papers of La Crosse county don't think it is right eternally to cut down the city assessments, and at the same time raise the county," Supervisor Moran declared.

Among sensational charges made by Supervisor Moran was a statement that stocks in La Crosse banks were valued at $60,000 higher than the assessment committee placed them. Moran made a personal attack on Supervisor Kindley. He charged him with unjustly increasing the valuation of cattle over the estimated value of Keizer. "Cattle in the various towns and villages are valued at $55 a head," he said. "Your city cows are worth only $47. Do you think cows in the country are worth more than those in the city? I've seen blooded cattle sell as low as $35 and very fine cattle, Guernseys at that, at $65 a head and the owners were glad to sell them at that figure."

Keizer is Angry
Tax Assessor Keizer contended that the action of the board in consistently refusing to accept his report, on any part of it, was virtually telling the Wisconsin tax commission that he was not attending to his job properly.

"You can put me on the back and say 'You're a good fellow, Jim,' but you simply tell me at the same time

Action Taken to Hasten Consideration by Supreme Court of the Eight Hour Law Recently Passed

EXPECT FEDERAL APPEAL

Federal Counsel Indicates Government Will Carry Its Case to the First Court of the Land

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 22.—Judge William C. Hook of the United States circuit court on Wednesday decided that the Adamson eight-hour law was unconstitutional.

The action brought Tuesday by the government asking the dismissal of an injunction suit brought by the Missouri, Oklahoma & Gulf railroad, known as the Kenefick road, was to get an early decision from the supreme court.

Judge Hook's action will permit the case appearing before the supreme court when it convenes December 4. The court allowed the government until 3 o'clock to perfect an appeal.

The action brought by the railroad company against the brotherhoods will also be disposed of this afternoon. Judge Hook will either dismiss the action or allow the railroad company to file the same petition against the brotherhoods as it filed against the government.

"My decision was merely to rush the case to the supreme court as rapidly as possible," Judge Hook said after the decision.

While the government's action was taken in the case of only one railroad, every rail system of transportation in the United States is affected. Representatives of all railroads will be invited to take part in the supreme court proceedings if the government's motion is granted. Judge Hook said. Action was taken on the injunction petition of the Missouri, Oklahoma & Gulf rather than on similar petitions of scores of other roads, because the Missouri, Oklahoma & Gulf is in the hands of the receivers and is under the direction of the federal court.

Police Can't Find Horse Stolen From Station Curbing

Minus wings, and without anything which would indicate where he had been, the horse stolen from in front of Central police station last night walked into the barnyard of the Eagle hotel shortly after noon Wednesday, and whinnied for a measure of oats.

Police at noon on Wednesday were reluctantly beginning to lean toward the theory that a horse can grow wings and fly, since for some twelve hours they had been unable to trace a valuable horse and buggy stolen from in front of Central station Tuesday evening. Every avenue out of the city was watched from within a few minutes after the animal was taken, but no trace could be found. The police started a systematic search of all barns and sheds in the city in the morning.

The horse was valued at $200. It belonged to Henry Ellis, an Onalaska member of the county poor commission. William Ellis, his son, tied the horse in front of the city hall at 9 o'clock Tuesday evening and went into the police station on an errand. Half an hour later the horse and the rubber tired buggy had disappeared.

The horse is described as seal brown, with a small scar inside his front knee. The buggy was black, with red running gear, and rubber tires.

Leopards Escaped from Circus Few Years Ago Thought to Have Mated with Mountain Lion

WITHOUT DOUBT LEOPARD

Caught Fortnight Ago by Two Indian Trappers Who Were Mauled Before Ending Its Life

Trapped by two Indians on Trempealeau Mountain, a leopard cub's skin is puzzling local naturalists. Paul Lutz, expert furrier of this city, has positively identified the skin as that of a leopard cub, two or three months old, and its markings are identical with those of the tropical jungle beast, even to the experienced observer. How an animal of the tropics could have survived the heavy winters of the northwest, and still more strange, how it could have propagated in a region in which it must have been the only one of its kind, is the problem which presents itself to Gus B. Rose, whose property the has become.

Mother Circus Beast?

The only theory that is raised to account for the unusual beast goes back to the story of leopards which escaped from a circus passing through Trempealeau county some two years ago and was never captured. There is known to have been, for some years, a lone mountain lion, or American cougar, prowling in the forests of Trempealeau Mountain, and it is believed that the escaped menagerie animal must have mated with the grizzled old "painter" of Trempealeau.

The peculiar beast was caught a fortnight ago by two Indians, in a trap. It was caught only by the foot, and put up a terrific battle in which one of its captors was badly mauled and scratched before it was dispatched. Unable to identify the curious beast, the two Indians, who are friends of Mr. Rose, cured the skin and brought it to him as a gift.

Not Wild Cat

At first believing it to be a freak specimen of wild cat, Mr. Rose took it down to exhibit to Mr. Lutz. But the latter pointed out that its long tail definitely sets aside the possibility that it is a wild cat. That animal has long been known as "bob-cat" because of its typical stub-tail.

The skin is beautifully marked with yellow and black in the familiar design of a typical leopard. The markings are not as distinct as in mature animals, but Mr. Lutz avers this is due to the fact that the beast was killed in its infancy, before the striking coloring had developed.

The old "painter" of Trempealeau has been known to exist for several years. He has been seen repeatedly by half-breed hunters of the neighborhood, and Mr. Rose Wednesday said that he himself had seen the beast of which the hunters had told him stories. The animal was much larger than a wild cat, Mr. Rose said, and although he saw it at dusk, he fully credits the Indian assertion that it is a lone survivor of the panthers that once infested this part of the country.

DECLARES PUMPKINS WERE BOUGHT AND ALLOWED TO SPOIL

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Startling information relative to food manipulation, is in the hands of United States District Attorney Charles Clyne here. B. L. Brundage, farmer near Gary, Ind., informed Clyne his entire crop of pumpkins had been purchased and allowed to rot on the ground.

Hinton G. Clabough, head of the federal investigation bureau here, was told twenty-eight carloads of potatoes had been dumped into the river at Peoria, Ill.

Evidence of collusion to boost food prices between wholesalers and retailers here was laid before Clyne by Clabough.

Clabough has letters written by large wholesale grocers to retailers urging them to raise the prices of goods already in stock to meet later increases, it is stated. Advances in canned goods of one cent a can were made the basis of five cent raises by retail grocers, it is said.

This evidence is to be laid before the grand jury in session here immediately Clyne said.

Fifty Reported Lost When Britannic, Probably Huge White Star Vessel, Is Sent to the Bottom

CLAIM BOAT UNARMED

New York Offices, Confident Ship Was White Star Vessel, Declare Boat Was Not Belligerent

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The British hospital ship Britannic (probably the White Star liner, and one of the biggest ships afloat) was sunk in the Zea channel of the Aegean sea Tuesday by a mine or torpedo, the admiralty announced.

The admiralty announced Wednesday that of those aboard about fifty were lost, 28 were injured, and 1,100 were saved.

The Britannic was a steel triple screw steamship of 48,158 tons—the biggest British ship afloat. She was built for the White Star line's passenger service, being finished only last year, but was immediately requisitioned by the British government for use as a hospital transport.

The Zea channel where the admiralty states the great ship was lost, is a bit of water between mainland of Greece and the island of Zea. From this it is safe to assume that the Britannic was bringing back wounded from Salonika, the channel being one of the direct routes to the allies, depot in this section.

Believe Ship of White Star Line

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Lacking any advice, officials of the White Star line here Wednesday were practically certain that the hospital ship Britannic, sunk by a torpedo or mine in the Aegean sea, was the Britannic of their line—the biggest British passenger ship afloat.

They based their belief on two points.—First, that the liner Britannic, completed only last year, had immediately been requisitioned by the admiralty for hospital service, and

Second, the only Britannic of British registry listed in Lloyd's was a vessel of a mere 428 tons—too small to accommodate the 1,178 persons accounted for in the admiralty's list of dead, wounded and rescued.

There are four Britannics listed in Lloyd's. First is the White Star liner—48,158 tons. The second is a vessel of 2,289 tons, owned by Brummenees & Torgersen—and registered from a Norwegian port. The third is one owned by Montreal & Cornwall Navigation company, registered at Montreal, whose burden is only 428 tons. The fourth Britannic, of 3,487 tons, was sunk several months ago.

It was stated that the Britannic never has been armed. The first news the steamship company had of the loss of the ship was through the United Press dispatches from London.

The Britannic was the largest British ship afloat and was second only to the Vaterland, the huge German passenger vessel, in tonnage. She displaced 48,158 tons. She was propelled by three screws.

Can you run a long city block in competition with one of the new La Crosse street cars?

One man, said to be a carpenter, and living somewhere near the end of the Sixteenth street car line, did.

He was compelled to for when he stepped from the rear platform a few nights ago, and the conductor shut the door and signalled the car to start, the man's overcoat was caught tight.

Although the rear platform was crowded at the time, according to those on the car, no one heard the man yell for help.

He simply settled down to an imitation of Joe Loomis, world's champion sprinter, to save his garment, and when the next corner was reached, was released.

CATARRH KILLS EMPEROR

Ruler, Apparently in Good Health Monday Night, Taken Ill Tuesday and Dies Late in the Evening

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Official announcement of the death of Emperor Franz Josef was made Wednesday afternoon by the Austrian embassy here.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Emperor Francis Joseph, ruler of Austria-Hungary for sixty-eight years, died at nine o'clock Tuesday night at Schoenbrunn castle, Vienna, presumably of the catarrhal affection resulting from cold from which he had constantly suffered since July.

Eyes of Europe have turned on the Archduke Charles Francis Joseph, now to be emperor. Though Vienna has so far withheld official court confirmation of the death of the aged emperor, his demise has been confirmed in special dispatches from various sources.

Taken Ill Tuesday

The emperor was apparently in fairly good health Monday night, twenty-four hours before his death. He arose at his usual hour on Tuesday morning and went through his customary program of buying himself in governmental affairs. Later he received the Archduchess Marie Valerie and Baron Buriann from the foreign office. Late in the afternoon he became suddenly worse. His temperature rose alarmingly. It was obvious then that the end was near.

The Archduchess Marie Valerie assisted the aged ruler to his bedroom early Tuesday night. He was unable to sleep and kept complaining of pains in his throat. At 9 o'clock he appeared more quiet and seemed to be resting. But twenty minutes later he suddenly gestured to his throat, seemed to strive for utterance, and died within a few moments. Dispatches from Vienna via Amsterdam Wednesday said that the aged emperor's passing was peaceful.

Archduke Notified

The archduke Charles Francis Joseph, who has been in Vienna for some time, was immediately notified. The telephone connecting Schoenbrunn palace with the German headquarters in the field was used in notifying Emperor William of Germany.

It is expected that in addition to the kaiser, the czar of Bulgaria and the crown prince of Turkey will attend the funeral, no complete plans for which have yet been made.

The conference between the Austrian and Hungarian premiers, scheduled at Budapest this week was immediately postponed and the Hungarian cabinet called into special session. Count Tessa the Hungarian premier, left for Vienna immediately.

Study New Emperor

The new ruler of the nation whose demands on Serbia precipitated the great war is 29 years of age.

With the prospect that the sovereign may have an important bearing on the future in the war, his character and disposition has been the subject of deep study by all Europe.

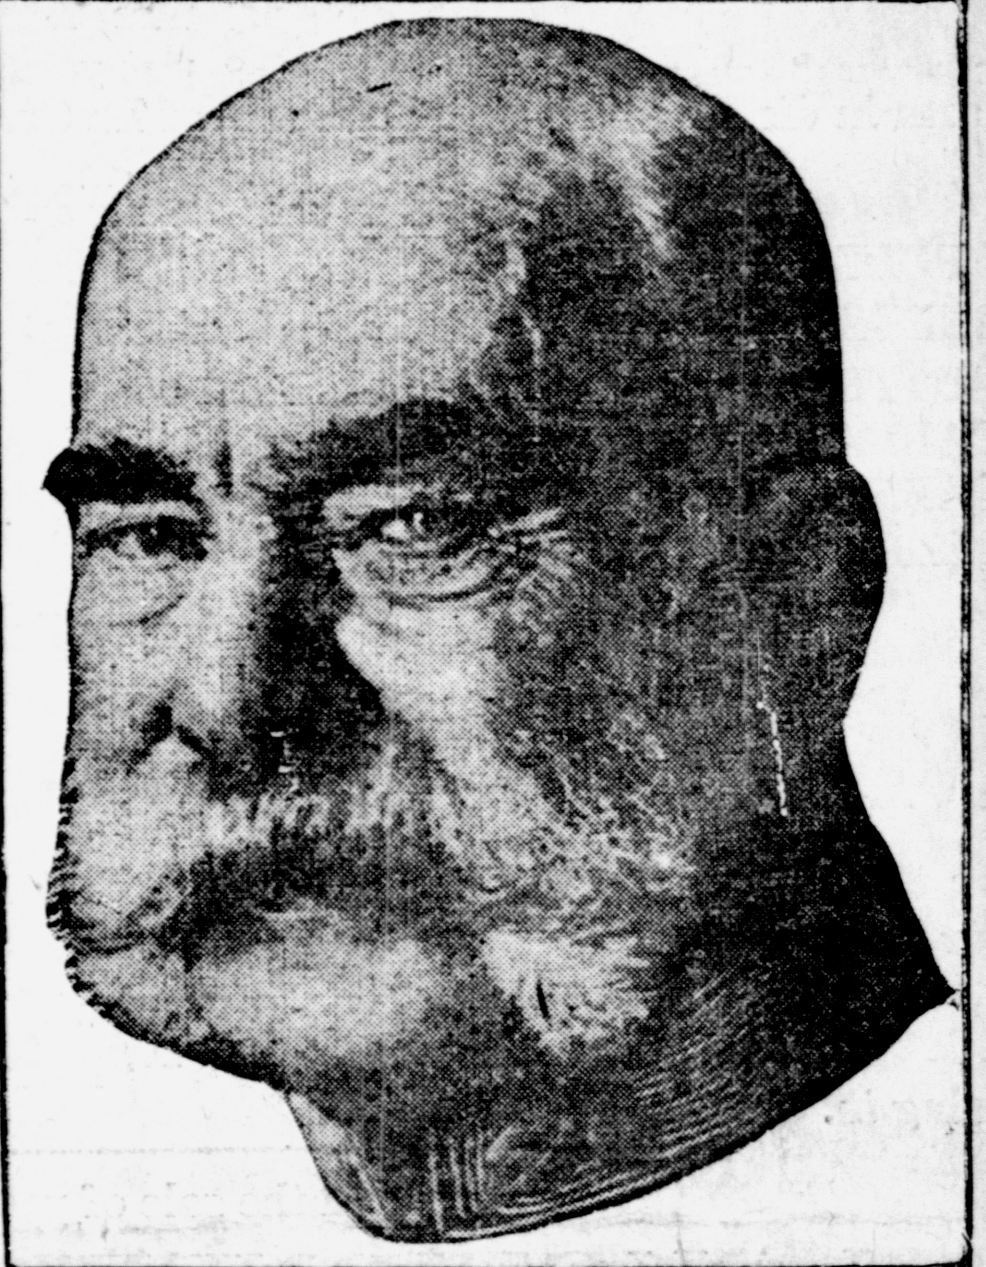

Democratically inclined, very little was known of him up to the time that an assassin's bomb murdered the Archduke Francis Ferdinand, the heir in Sarajevo, June 28, 1914.

Lacks Training in Statecraft

The man who will now become Austria's ruler is known to have had a good military education and has achieved some success as a military commander in the great war. He has lacked any training whatever in statecraft or diplomacy. Moreover, he assumes the throne at a time when the strongest of men would have a task in maintaining the empire of Austro-Hungary intact and strong. Hungary is growing restive under the Hapsburg yoke. Strong leaders of men have recently appeared there. They fear swallowing up of Hungary in the Teutonic empire and have not hesitated to express that belief and work for Hungary as a separate kingdom.

But immediately the result of the removal of the strong figure of the aged emperor was believed here to mean an increase in Prussian domination of the central empires. Franz Josef, acknowledged one of the strongest rulers of modern times, is no more. A more striding, unversed in statecraft, succeeds him. Germany will probably find him pliant in according to Prussian wishes.

Guiding Hand Is Gone

THE LATE EMPEROR FRANZ JOSEF

Vienna, it was said, had been prepared for the news but nevertheless removal of the ruler who had wielded power for sixty-eight years, caused a profound impression.

Medieval Ceremonies

The Vienna court is known as the most formal in all Europe and a great many curiously medieval ceremonies will attend official announcement of the sovereign's death, preparation of his body for burial, interment and proclamation of his successor on the throne.

According to custom, probably the work of embalming the dead emperor's body was begun Wednesday; his heart will be removed and placed in a separate receptacle—although this will later be buried with his body.

Asks Plain Coffin

Sixty-eight years ago when the last Hapsburg sovereign died, his heart was put in an urn and preserved with fifty-five other similar urns, each containing the heart of fifty-five members of the royal family, in the Church of St. Augustine. It was Franz Josef who terminated this ancient custom, issuing a royal decree against it. According to the dead emperor's own wishes, his coffin will be a plain wooden one of oak lined with white satin. It will be covered with royal velvet and be placed finally in a large metallic sarcophagus in the imperial crypt.

If custom is followed, Franz Josef will not be buried for at least a week. Probably his body will lie in state in the Hofburg Augustiner church, an edifice 400 years old. The interment will be in the imperial crypt under the plain but ancient little church of the Capuchin Fathers—for four centuries keepers of the Hapsburg dead.

Franz Josef will be Number 133 in the crypt, but more properly Hapsburg Number 132—one of the 133 bodies being that of a countless companion of the great Maria Theresa for whose fidelity and love the emperor decided that the body should rest with her.

Born August 18, 1830

Franz Josef was born August 18, 1830. His death ends a reign longer than any in modern history, except that of Louis XIV of France—and Louis, unlike the Hapsburg sovereign, ascended the throne when a mere child of five.

It was a reign bathed in blood and shrouded in tragedies. Franz Josef ascended the throne when he was 18 years of age and has therefore held the sceptre of imperial authority for sixty-eight years.

Fall of Craiova Late Tuesday to von Falkenhayn Raises Question if Rumanians Are Aware of Peril

REAR RUMANIAN COLLAPSE

Whether Army Can Escape Jaws of German Vise, Closing in from North and South, Is Eagerly Awaited

LONDON, Nov. 22.—London made no attempt Wednesday to disguise its feeling of the gravity of the German whirlwind advance into western Rumania, indicated in the fall late Tuesday of Craiova in western Wallachia.

Military experts and economists were greatly concerned to know whether the Rumanians had sufficient advance information of the speed of the German enveloping movement, engineered by General von Falkenhayn, to remove from Craiova the vast stores of grain known to be there.

Germany, it is believed, desperately needs such wheat and hope is expressed here that fragmentary advice indicating that the Craiova granaries had been emptied long before the German occupation will be confirmed.

The London press made no disguise of the menace seen in the amazingly swift progress by which General Falkenhayn's army swept into Rumania and took the Wallachian city. A temporary and local collapse of the entire Rumanian defensive was feared. What London is most anxious now to ascertain is whether the Rumanian army, in which von Falkenhayn's bold move sought to envelope, can escape the jaws of the German vise and successfully evade crushing from the north and south pressure. With Craiova in German hands the Rumanian railway communications to the Orsova sector are cut off. The Rumanian army in this Orsova section is in an exceedingly precarious position.

PARIS, Nov. 22.—Hot pursuit of the retreating Bulgarian-German army forced out of Monastir, is still being made by the allied forces.

The Serbians in particular, heartened by the occupation of their ancient city of Monastir, are pressing on irresistibly to the north, forcing back the Teutonic line toward Priepe. An enormous store of supplies and military impedimenta abandoned by the Teutons in the flight, has been captured.

ACTION MADE FOR RAPID RULING ON THE ADAMSON LAW

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 22.—Frank Hagerman, acting special counsel for the federal government, took a short cut here Tuesday in an attempt to get an early decision on the constitutionality of the Adamson law by the United States supreme court. Proceedings for immediate action were filed in the federal court. If the plan undertaken by Hagerman goes through without a hitch the decision can be had from the high court before January 1, when the law becomes effective, it was said here.

The brotherhoods have announced that if the new wage eight-hour day law is not in effect by January 1, the brotherhoods will strike. By this shortcut proceedings the government hopes to get a favorable decision from the supreme court before the railroad brotherhoods carry out their threat.

COTTON BREAKS BADLY

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Cotton broke more than a dollar on the bale during the first hour of trading on the cotton exchange Tuesday. Opening prices were at 21 cents or higher for all futures, showing advances ranging up to 8 points. An hour later prices generally were about 18 points under Monday's closing figure, with May at 20.21 and January at 20.86.

Cotton closed weak, off 32 to 40 points.

RIVER PONTOON AT M'GREGOR NEARING ITS COMPLETION

M'GREGOR, Iowa.—(Special.)—Work on the approaches to the new pontoon for the west channel of the Mississippi is nearing completion. The pontoon was brought over from Prairie du Chien some time ago by the government boat Percy Swain, taken through the present draw and tied up by the island a little south of the bridge. The new bridge will be a few yards south of the present one. Though there is floating ice in the river many motor boats are still in use, particularly by the duck hunters.

SPARTA WOMEN PLAN CHRISTMAS CANTATA

Mrs. Edward Herbst and Mrs. Fanchon Are Arranging for Event to Be Given Under Militia Auspices

SPARTA, Wis.—(Special.)—Mrs. Edward Herbst of this city, and Mrs. Fanchon Parmalee Green of Chicago, are directing arrangements for a Christmas cantata, to be given in the Armory December 19, under the auspices of Company L. W. N. G.

"Santa's Prerogatives," is the title of the entertainment, which will require six principal character singers, and about 200 children in the chorus, costumed to represent different nations.

Mrs. Green has had a large experience in directing musical entertainments of this kind in Chicago, and no doubt will meet with pronounced success in this undertaking.

Miss Grace Sables of this city will give some special dances; Mr. Homer Shaffmaster of Madison, will have a principal part, and Prof. James R. Kerr of La Crosse, who has so often delighted Sparta audiences with his singing, will be one of the soloists of the evening. Everyone should feel an interest in this benefit for our company boys, and patronize it generously.

Mr. Hanchett Dies

Edward T. Hanchett passed away at St. Mary's hospital Monday afternoon at three o'clock, having been ill but a few days. He was stricken with pneumonia Thursday, and was unconscious a considerable part of the time, until his death. He was eighty-two years of age. The body was taken to S. C. Letson's undertaking rooms and removed from there on Tuesday morning to the home of his nephew, Mr. William Hanchett.

GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Hair becomes charming, wavy, lustrous and thick in few moments.

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

For 25 cents you can save your hair. In less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after applying some Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

Teachers Meet
The 1916 annual school board and teachers' convention was held in the Sparta high school Tuesday.

The program for the day was as follows: 9:30, opening exercises and roll call; "How to Secure Better Schools," Mrs. W. Rich, treasurer of Dist. No. 5, Sheldon and Whitestown; "Signs of the Growing Teachers," Supt. M. M. Haey, Sparta; "The Power, Duties and Opportunities of School Officers and Teachers," Rural Inspector W. E. Larson, Madison.

1:30—Opening exercises and roll call; "Rural Hygiene," Miss Maynard Downes; "Going South," Prof. F. C. Bray; "What to Teach and How to Teach it," Inspector W. E. Larson.

Local and Personal
The Advancement association held their regular monthly business meeting Tuesday night in the city hall. Lunch was served after the business meeting and a social hour followed.

The fire alarm at three o'clock yesterday afternoon called the fire ladders to the home of Fred Albright on Myrtle street, where there was a small blaze.

N. F. Palen secured the contract for laying the new sewer on Chester and Condit streets, for the consideration of $513.

Miss Mildred Stokes, who is ill in the hospital, following an operation, is now convalescent.

Mrs. D. W. Cheney has closed her home for the winter and moved to the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Dorrington, on East Montgomery street.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis from Glendive, Mont., are visiting relatives here.

Mrs. George Bunnell has gone to Milwaukee to join her husband, who is employed there.

Misses Dorothea Kyhl and Hattie Rathburn spent Sunday in La Crosse with friends.

Mrs. W. Rich of Cashton; Mrs. C. Cole, Ontario; Miss Helen Gehly, Troy, and Miss Josephine Barry of Summit, are in the city to attend the teachers' convention.

Miss Kathryn Sickinger of St. Paul has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Wallie Baldwin, this week.

Fred Enckhausen, who has been in San Antonio with Company L, arrived home, his term of enlistment having expired. He has been visiting friends in Madison for a few days. Mrs. John Remington is on the sick list.

Mrs. Fred Baldwin of Chicago, is visiting friends and relatives in the city, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Baldwin, at Hotel Lewis.

Mrs. Irving Childs spent a few days last week in Neenah.

Mrs. S. W. Hannum of Midway, was a recent visitor here.

F. L. Kimble and wife of Melrose, spent Sunday here with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Enckhausen have returned home from Sioux City, Iowa, where they went to visit the latter's brother, who is ill.

Miss Sallie Jefferson came up from La Crosse to spend Sunday.

E. B. Bell was a La Crosse visitor Sunday.

Rachel Ford came up from La Crosse to spend Sunday at her home. Miss Theresa Dunbar, who teaches near Wilton, attended the teachers' convention held here.

N. S. Sparling and Ira Albrecht of New Lyme, transacted business here on Saturday.

CAN CLOSE BARBER SHOP
DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 21.—The Sunday closing law applied to barbershops was held to be constitutional by the Iowa supreme court in a decision handed down Tuesday in the case of C. S. Linsig of Davenport.

Linsig's attorneys argued that it is lawful to curry a mule and trim its tail and mane on Sunday and that the law should not discriminate between a mule and a man. The court affirmed the opinion of the Iowa supreme court that the law is constitutional.

OLD-TIME REMEDY MAKES PURE BLOOD

Hood's Sarsaparilla has been and still is the people's medicine because of its reliable character and its wonderful success in purifying, enriching and revitalizing the blood and relieving the common diseases and ailments—scrofula, catarrh, rheumatism, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, general debility.

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies and enriches the blood, and in so doing renders the human system the greatest service possible. This medicine has been tested for years. It is perfectly pure, clean and absolutely safe, as well as of peculiar and unequalled medicinal merit.

Get Hood's, and get it now from any drug store.

settled and colder weather Thursday.

The Searchlight
AMERICAN AIR FLEET BEGUN

The navy is now receiving bids for the construction of a monster Zepp-elint dirigible to be built at a cost approximating half a million dollars.
It is to be fully 500 feet long and equal to any of the monsters now in service in the European war zone.

Orders have also been given for two hundred smaller aeronautic vessels including biplanes, triplanes and smaller dirigibles, most of which are to be completed at an early date as a beginning to the aeronautic fleet which is to place America on a par with other world powers in this respect.

CLOSING THE ROADS
TO PRESERVE THEM

There may be temporary value in the resolution of the county board which provides that the road committee may close county highways to heavy motor-trucks when the roads are soft. But at best that kind of legislation is only makeshift.

Roads are not to be preserved for their own sake. They are only avenues of communication, and insofar as legislation restricts the traffic over the roads it defeats their primary and fundamental purpose. It may be that the greatest good for the greatest number requires that trucks be barred off for certain periods, notably during the spring thaws. But there are a number of communities in the county which will feel the shutting off of truck communication to a large extent, should it last more than a very short time.

It is to be hoped that the time will speedily arrive when this county's roads will be so permanently constructed that there will be no question of preserving them by throwing them out of service. Toward this desirable consummation, the attitude of the county board for several years past has been distinctly commendable.

UPON WHAT MEAT DOTH
THIS OUR CASSIUS FEED?

Under the headline "The World's Greatest Newspaper", the Chicago "Tribune" of November 20 conspicuously republished the following editorial, which it credited to the Virden "Record":

For several years the Chicago Tribune has contended that it is "The World's Greatest Newspaper".
The election results in the states of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, and Wisconsin, where The Tribune circulates, seem to bear that paper out in its statement.

In 1912 President Wilson carried Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, and Wisconsin, and Roosevelt carried Michigan. The Tribune, which supported Roosevelt four years ago, was the cause of these strong republican states entering the democratic column.

Four years ago the republican party in the above mentioned five states was justly "rebuked" by The Tribune. This year The Tribune returned them to the republican ranks. The republican majority in each state follows:
Illinois, 175,456; Indiana, 5,971; Iowa, 63,167; Michigan, 71,008;
Wisconsin, 26,000.

The above figures show that the influence of The Tribune is far reaching in its effect. When a newspaper can roll up an average majority of over 100,000 republican in five different states which supported another party four years before it must be admitted that that paper has influence.

The state of Illinois should be and we believe is proud to be the home of The Tribune and we can point with pride to it as The World's Greatest Newspaper, without using any quotation marks.

No doubt the Virden "Record" published it; else how could the Chicago "Tribune" have copied it, with due credit? How, indeed, unless the justly celebrated Blackstone Theater straw vote was a policy rather than an incident. However, we'll take the "Virden" for granted in order that we may the better appreciate what the Chicago "Herald" calls "the disciple of conceit"— truly its contemporary's "cosmos" is all ego.

One wonders the Virden "Record" sees not the menace in that situation to which its enthusiasm so vigorously reacts. Suppose the Chicago "Tribune"—perish the thought—should use bad judgment in casting the vote of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin? Think of it, my children! Where then would be the infallibility of democracy?

Now can we pass from this subject without noting the ex-posure of "T. R." So, after all, our "sage" is a fraud whose reputation is made of conquests stolen from the Chicago "Tribune".

One wonders that the Virden paper should have been so modest in its adulation. New York and Pennsylvania went republican—why not credit them to the Chicago "Tribune"? The latter will acquiesce. And why not the remainder of the eighteen states carried by Mr. Hughes? The Chicago "Tribune" is game if the Virden "Record" has the nerve.

And now, having demonstrated that the Chicago "Tribune" carried eighteen republican states for the republican candidate, let us concede the balance to the Chicago "Herald". Surely—we offer it on the word of the Badger State—if the Chicago "Tribune" carried Wisconsin for Hughes, the Chicago "Herald" carried the solid south for Wilson.

If God ever finds himself out of a job, perhaps He will try for a place with the Chicago "Tribune". Upon that modest journal's staff there is always a chance to "begin at the bottom and work up".

OLD MEN AND THEIR JOBS

A recent newspaper dispatch reports a movement to secure pensions for superannuated government employees. The gray-beard of the departments has always been one of Washington's most perplexing problems. In spite of all the red tape that interferes with government efficiency, the government clerk is apt to be a hard working man. He has at least done his best by Uncle Sam. It is a hard proposition to know what to do with him when he gets by the age of greatest efficiency.

In business it is much the same. There are a great many concerns that keep him along much after the time when he really earns his pay. But in perhaps more he is coldly and curtly told that his place is needed by a younger man. It is a bitter day when he is turned adrift, with his heart and hands as ready to work as ever, but the snap and vim of youth gone.

The proposition in the movement referred to is to establish a government pension system for aged employees. It may be possible to work this out. But the tax payers already regard the cost of government work as too high. If the departments could be systematized by the same kind of business ability that organizes a big factory, they ought to be able to pay their present wages, provide pensions, and not increase the costs at all.

In the long run it pays a business concern to have a heart.
It cannot decide all relations between its employees simply on the basis of buying so much labor for so much cash. It has to create favorable sentiment in its own workshops and in the community it serves. Where it can recognize long terms of service by special favors, it creates a sentiment of loyalty that does not otherwise exist.

EVERYONE LIKES
THIS COLD CURE

"Pape's Cold Compound" ends
a cold or gripe in a few hours.

Your cold will break and all gripe misery end after taking a dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until three doses are taken.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge of nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing,
soreness and stiffness.

Don't stuff up! Quit blowing and snuffing! Ease your throbb-ing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no

Out of the Mouths of Kids

A small boy astride of a donkey was taking some supplies to an army camp in Texas not long ago and got there just as a detachment of soldiers preceded by a band was marching past.

The lad dismounted and held the bride of the donkey tightly in his hand.

"Why are you holding on to your brother so hard?" asked a group of soldiers who were standing near and wanted to tease the country boy.

"I'm afraid he might enlist," said the lad, without batting an eyelash.

Appreciative

"Uncle," said a traveler in the South, to a venerable negro, "can you change a ten-dollar bill?"

The old fellow protrayed the utmost surprise as he shuffled around to a standing position and respectfully touched his cap.

"Deed, an' ah can't, boss," he replied. "But Ah 'preciates de honor, jest the same."

Inconsistent

One of the recruiting canvassers in an English provincial town was a well known local magistrate. In most cases he succeeded in obtaining the promises he wished, but at last he knocked at one cottage door which was opened to him by a sturdy son of the soil.

"My man," said the magistrate, in his most persuasive tones, "are you willing to fight for your king and country?"

"No, I beant, sir," was the prompt reply. "An' I be surprised at you askin' me for to do it. Two years ago come next month you yourself fined 120 shillings for fighting w'f Bill Smith, and you said it wor wicked to fight, an' I promised you as I wouldn't repeat de offense, an' I allus keep my word."

STONEHENGE

Stonehenge, as everybody knows, is a prehistoric outdoor temple on Salisbury plain, the pride of England,
and formerly a periodic source of national panic as reports got broad that it was about to be bought by a rich American and freighted bodily across the Atlantic. It is one thing that every tourist is sure to visit,
and from mid-morning to mid-afternoon it is likely to be surrounded by crowds of vehicles of all sorts and conditions, full of picnic parties and curious aliens and antiquarians.
Hence the best time to visit Stone-
henge is very early in the morning
or on moonlight night.

Visiting Stonehenge is a spiritual experience. There is something almost uncanny in the powerful effect that these great drunken-leaning rocks have on the imagination. Not all the volumes that have been written about it, not the knowledge that it is the most famous "sight" in the three kingdoms, not even the stories of the rich Americans who are going to buy it, can take away from the new visitor the thrill of the discovery when the rude stones loom
through the morning mist.

The atmosphere of Salisbury Plain
has more than a little to do with this.
Its rough grassy open swept by a keen sea wind has a loneliness, a rude and primitive quality that is out of place in little, thickly settled England. The shallow tinkle of sheep bells only seems to hark back to the days of those other little people who tended their sheep on the plain and worshiped in the monstrous temple that looms huge in the morning light. How did they set those great stones? How did they swing the heavy granite lintels from pillar to pillar? And how can any man answer now, when we do not even know with certainty who they were?

This much at least is sure—that they picked the place for their temple with a fine artistic sense of the fitness of things. There is no place in all England that would harmonize
better with the spirit of the dumb
gray stones than this Salisbury Plain
with its sighing winds and its mist-
hidden grasses.

three kingdoms, not even the stories
of the rich Americans who are going to buy it, can take away from the new visitor the thrill of the discovery when the rude stones loom
through the morning mist.

The atmosphere of Salisbury Plain
has more than a little to do with this.
Its rough grassy open swept by a keen sea wind has a loneliness, a rude and primitive quality that is out of place in little, thickly settled England. The shallow tinkle of
sheep bells only seems to hark back
to the days of those other little people who tended their sheep on the
plain and worshiped in the monstrous temple that looms huge in the morning light. How did they set those great stones? How did they swing the heavy granite lintels from pillar to pillar? And how can any man answer now, when we do not even know with certainty who they were?

This much at least is sure—that they picked the place for their temple with a fine artistic sense of the fitness of things. There is no place
in all England that would harmonize
better with the spirit of the dumb
gray stones than this Salisbury Plain
with its sighing winds and its mist-
hidden grasses.

STONEHENGE

Stonehenge, as everybody knows, is
a prehistoric outdoor temple on Salisbury plain, the pride of England,
and formerly a periodic source of national panic as reports got broad
that it was about to be bought by a rich American and freighted bodily
across the Atlantic. It is one thing
that every tourist is sure to visit,
and from mid-morning to mid-afternoon it is likely to be surrounded by crowds of vehicles of all sorts and conditions, full of picnic parties and
curious aliens and antiquarians.
Hence the best time to visit Stone-
henge is very early in the morning
or on moonlight night.

Visiting Stonehenge is a spiritual experience. There is something almost uncanny in the powerful effect
that these great drunken-leaning rocks have on the imagination. Not all the volumes that have been written about it, not the knowledge that it is the most famous "sight" in the three kingdoms, not even the stories
of the rich Americans who are going to buy it, can take away from the new visitor the thrill of the discovery when the rude stones loom
through the morning mist.

PICKFORD PLAY IS SHOWN TO CLUBS AND SCHOOLMA'AMS

"Less Than Dust," the first picture in which Mary Pickford has appeared before the American photoplay public since leaving Paramount, and the dainty little star's masterpiece, was shown to members of the Twentieth Century club, the La Crosse Women's club, and teachers of the La Crosse States Normal school and the high school at a private exhibition at the La Crosse theater Monday afternoon.

The exhibition, a photoplay or stage production of the magnitude of "Less Than Dust" in La Crosse, was made with a two-fold purpose. Manager F. L. Koppelberger, manager of the theater, was desirous of co-operating with the club women and school teachers in a movement begun by them for afternoon photoplay entertainments for students instead of the evening show.

School teachers and the members of women's clubs point out that while many "movies" are beneficial to children and their elder brothers and sisters, evening entertainments detract greatly from their studies and are injurious. To avoid this with the exhibition of "Less Than Dust" which comes to the La Crosse theater for four days, beginning Monday, December 1, the picture will be run during a special in afternoon matinee. This fact will be advertised widely by teachers, and they, with the aid of club women, will endeavor to inculcate the practice of attending matinees in preference to the evening show.

The hundred or more women who witnessed the private exhibition of "Less Than Dust" praised it highly. "Little Mary," as she is known to thousands of her admirers in the photoplay world, is at the height of her career.

ELKS ASK NEW BIDS

KENOSHA, Wis., Nov. 22.—Bids for the new Kenosha Elks' club were opened and all were rejected. More than forty contractors bid, but not one of them offered a complete bid. The estimated cost of the building is $110,000, but the lowest bid received was $134,000. The committee voted to ask for new bids.

SAYS HOT WATER EACH DAY KEEPS THE DOCTOR AWAY

Drink glass of hot water before breakfast to wash out the poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate, in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Brindley Recounts Humorous Aspects Of Judge's Office

There are many men in La Crosse who are not content to join the water wagon troupe by a mere informal declaration but who to make their oaths effective go to Judge Brindley's court and swear off orally or in writing before the county judge, for a period ranging from a couple of months to a lifetime.

Not long ago a gruff figure came into the office, signified his intention of taking the step and questioned by the judge as to the manner in which he intended to take the obligation repelled. "I usually swear off in writing."

Similar stories aroused a wealth of interest in normal students on Tuesday morning when they were favored by an address on the "Juvenile Courts" by Judge John Brindley of the County Court of La Crosse. Although this county has no special juvenile court, Judge Brindley told of his administration of the principles employed by the famous Judge Lindsay long before the famed juvenile judge even aspired to office.

"Today," said Judge Brindley, "the system of employing public spirited townsmen to act in the capacity of guardians for the youngsters who go astray is being employed here."

LAST BOOK OF FAMOUS WRITER IS MADE INTO FILM

"Somewhere in France," the last book written by the famous Richard Harding Davis before his death a few months ago, has been dramatized by the Triangle film-play producers, and will form a unique attraction for the Majestic's week-end entertainment, commencing Thursday and concluding Saturday night.

Richard Harding Davis was one of the most famous war correspondents America has ever produced. He went through some eight or ten wars, and played a prominent part during the Spanish-American war and during the early months of the present European war. His sympathies were centered on the French, and he put into his book, "Somewhere in France," all the art he had.

It is sprinkled with mystery. The action begins with the first subtitle, and holds well until the very end. The plot is not explained until a thrilling ending. True pictures of trench warfare are presented, although the story does not have to do altogether with the horrors of war.

One feature of the production is the fact that Louise Glaum, a favorite figure of the Majestic screen, who was recently seen here with William S. Hart and in "The Wolf Woman," and Howard Hichman, star of "Civilization," have the chief roles.

BARBARA DOMES "PRICE OF MALICE"

Barbara Tennant, one of the most beautiful women appearing on the American photoplay screen, and by big odds the favorite feminine attraction of Metro films, stars at the Dome theater Wednesday in "The Price of Malice." Supporting her is the well known Hamilton Revelle. Together they play wonderfully well the chief roles, although every member of a large accompanying cast is appreciated. The story itself is one with a decided "punch."

Catherine Countess will hold the attention of Dome patrons Thursday when she comes to the Dome as the feature attraction of "The Modern Magdalene."

MAY COMPLETE DRIVE

KENOSHA, Wis., Nov. 22.—The formal resolution to issue bonds to the amount of $45,000 for the completion of the Sheridan drive through the town of Pleasant Prairie was submitted to the county board. Action will be taken on it on Wednesday. If the resolution is adopted it is planned to complete the road during the coming spring and summer months.

JAY WILSON IN BIJOU PHOTOPLAY "ASHES OF EMBERS"

Perhaps the most difficult task which the director can ask of his star is that she play in a production demanding the use of double exposure—that she play two roles in the same picture. This is the task faced by the beautiful and talented Pauline Frederick in "Ashes of Embers," her newest Famous Players production on the Paramount program, in which she plays the sisters Agnes and Laura, the one a drudge and the other a totally heartless and selfish woman. The picture is showing at the Bijou Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

There is no reason, however, why Miss Frederick should shrink from such a task as she has already scored a great success on the screen in another dual role—"The Spider"—in which she scored a great triumph. Anyone who has stood up and attempted to act before a blank wall have some idea of the difficulties which Miss Frederick faced in the taking of those scenes in which she plays both roles on the screen at the same time.

The story of "Ashes of Embers" is, briefly, that of a pitilessly selfish

Announcement! Raise in Price

The STUDEBAKER SIX selling at $1,085, and the FOUR now $875 will be increased $75 to $100 on or before December 1. This information is not being given to you in the form of an advertisement but in the form of an announcement in order that all Studebaker Prospective Customers may be enabled to take advantage of the present price.

We have a small stock of both FOURS and SIXES on hand, but we will order more to take care of additional orders as fast as they come in. Every car must be delivered on or before the time the new price goes into effect.

The unequalled and unquestioned value of Studebaker Cars is something that we do not have to mention in this announcement because the public already knows that Studebaker Cars are the standard of value of all cars within hundreds of dollars of their price. Even at the new price they will still be the same unequalled value, especially in view of the fact that other manufacturers have also advanced their prices.

DEALERS APPROVE MOVE FOR BETTER BOOKS FOR BOYS

(By Miss Lilly M. E. Borreson, Librarian)

The best bookellers in the country have welcomed the efforts of the Boy Scouts management to create a sentiment in favor of better books for boys. Following is a letter to Mr. Matthews, Boy Scout Librarian, from one of them:

"We have seen a marked decrease in the calls for the poorer series of boys' books and have been able to drop from stock some series that in previous years we had felt obliged to carry on account of the repeated demands. We found that through the whole month we were selling a better class of boys' books and I think the educational campaign for boys' week must have been a prime cause for this change.

"I like to carry inexpensive juveniles because I know the people need them. At the same time outside of the uncopyrighted classic, I do not know of a single series that I enjoy selling that is marked for less than 50 cents, and I think we shall concentrate on the better class of books with the 50 cent counter as a mainstay and a good display of new books of the year."

The writer might have added that there are a few attractively illustrated primers for little folks and certain books of the Andrew Lang fairy tale books that sell for from 25 to 45 cents; but a safe rule is that unless one feels that he can afford to spend at least 50 cents for a child's book, he had better give up buying a book altogether and get a hair ribbon or a toy instead. The poor print and poor paper in cheaper books will ruin the child's eyes, and the contents will poison his mind.

THIRD OF I. W. W. GANG GETS OFF WITH THIRTY DAYS

Harry Jones, member of the trio of alleged I. W. W.'s, two of whom are now serving sentences in state's prison for attempting to take the life of Detective Daniel Denech, was sentenced to thirty days servitude in county jail on Tuesday.

Jones was charged with carrying concealed weapons. He was arrested in a North La Crosse restaurant with Howard W. Burgess and Otto Gordon.

Jail sentence of six months is the limit for the offense with which Jones was charged. Because he has already served three and a half months in jail, District Attorney Ott to M. Schlabach asked the court to sentence him to a short term.

COUNCILMEN ARE CHOSEN TO PLAN SOLDIERS WELCOME

Five former militiamen in the council, and one alderman who is now in service on the border, were Wednesday appointed by Mayor A. A. Bentley to take charge of the arrangements for welcoming home the 250 La Crosse soldiers who are to start Thursday for their home from San Antonio, Texas.

The committee appointed by the mayor includes B. C. Smith, W. P. Roellig, William Grover, C. F. Weigel, A. P. Funk, William Torrance and Lieut. E. O. Schultz, second in command of Company B, Third Wisconsin.

"A right royal welcome to our soldier boys" is what the committee is directed to furnish, according to the manifesto of the mayor, in which the appointments were announced. It is understood that the committee has no program in mind, so far, and is anxious for suggestions from interested citizens.

The mayor's proclamation follows: "To the People of the City of La Crosse:

"That glad tidings are brought to us that the Third Regiment of the Wisconsin National guard is to be returned from its duty along the Mexican border. There is not a person in the city of La Crosse but feels great pride in the patriotism and loyalty manifested by those volunteering for service, and in the fortitude and cheerfulness with which they have performed their duties under circumstances the most trying.

"Our feeling is not alone one of pride, but of thankfulness and rejoicing that the troops are to come back to us to a man, and that while the service has been a trying one, it has not brought the grief of death with it.

"Since the first news of the homecoming has reached us I have had innumerable communications from soldiers' friends and citizens generally, asking that arrangements be made for some public gathering, where the public may have the opportunity of greeting them and in some manner expressing appreciation of the service and patriotism exhibited and the rejoicing at their return.

"I have been asked to appoint a committee to arrange for a municipal reception. Upon consideration, it seems that no committee more representative and more conversant with the wishes of the city at large could be selected than one embracing the members of the common council itself, who come from the various districts of the city, each conversant with the desires of his immediate constituency, and no doubt personally acquainted with the soldiers from his own district as well.

"Therefore, in recognition of the requests which have been made, and that there may be prompt action taken, I, as mayor of the city of La Crosse, hereby designate the common council of the city of La Crosse a committee to arrange for a general reception for our soldiers upon their return.

"Recognizing that some arrangements must be speedily made, prior to the next meeting of the common council, I particularly appoint as an executive committee of this larger one, the following aldermen: B. C. Smith, W. P. Roellig, William Grover, C. F. Weigel, A. P. Funk, William Torrance and E. O. Schultz. It is my wish that they accept the duties now imposed upon them, and that they communicate with the officers of the company, interested citizens and make such other proper arrangements as may be conducive to a right royal welcome to our soldier boys.

"A. A. BENTLEY."

LOCAL DELEGATES REGISTER AT CITY MANAGERS MEETING

A. M. Brayton and James R. Kinloe, who together with R. B. Gelatt were appointed to represent the Chamber of Commerce of La Crosse at "Municipal Week" in Springfield, Mass., registered at the National convention of City Managers Wednesday under the auspices of the National Municipal League. There is gathered in Springfield this week the greatest aggregation of municipal experts ever assembled. They will discuss every phase of municipal government, including consideration of a Model City Charter. Thursday the delegates will be the guests of the City of Springfield in an inspection of the city's municipal activities.

WORRY IS A DISEASE

The disorder which causes its victims to worry about or not is neurasthenia. Neurasthenia is entirely distinct from hysteria although the patient may have both diseases at the same time.

Neurasthenia often results from some nervous shock, such as the loss of a near relative, business reverses, or some severe overstrain on the nervous system. The patient is usually pale, showing that the blood is thin, and the first thing to do is to build up the blood because anything that builds up the general health helps to correct the neurasthenic condition. Rest and a good tonic is the very best treatment in most cases.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an ideal tonic for this condition because they are non-alcoholic and neurasthenic patients should avoid alcoholic stimulants. The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., has published a little book on nervous disorders that contains a chapter on neurasthenia, in which the symptoms are fully described and the correct treatment given. The booklet is free on request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by your own druggist or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50.

FORMER RESIDENT A. H. GORDON IS SUDDENLY TAKEN

A. H. Gordon, 52 years old, a brother of Attorney George H. Gordon, and a former well known resident of La Crosse, is dead at his home in Beaver Dam, Wis., according to word received by Attorney Gordon on Wednesday morning. Mr. Gordon was at Fitch, Wis., where he was acting as station agent for the Milwaukee railroad. While details of his death are lacking it is believed that Mr. Gordon succumbed while working at his desk in the railroad office. Heart disease was the cause. He was in the best of health a few hours prior.

Mr. Gordon was a native of La Crosse. He worked for a time as mail carrier and was for several years dispatcher at South Junction, on the Burlington road. He left La Crosse about seven years ago, and has held many respectable positions with railroads in this section of the north-west. He was well known to railroad men. He is survived by a widow.

The body will arrive in La Crosse Thursday morning. Funeral services will be held here and the body will be interred in Oak Grove cemetery. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

'PHONE ENLISTED TO REMIND THEM OF MARKET DAYS

The telephone has been enlisted to remind the farmers near La Crosse of the two big market days upon which may hang the success of the agitation for a permanent public market in this city. Telephone operators at La Crosse, Onalaska, Holmen, La Crescent, Hokah, Houston, Coon Valley, Chaseburg, Stoddard, West Salem, Bangor, Earle and Dakota have been engaged to telephone the message of Market day to every farmer and gardener on their lines. Here is the message which they will repeat:

"A Farmers' Market day will be held in La Crosse on Friday and on next Tuesday in the big tent on the Market square with an auction sale in the afternoon. The committee wants you to bring in anything you have for sale."

It was pointed out Wednesday that there should be no confusion in regard to the auction sale of the afternoon. It will not be an auction of produce, but a clearing house to enable the farmers who come to the market to dispose of anything from an old harness to a blooded heifer.

FIRE IN ICE-CAR CAUSES DAMAGE PLACED AT $1,500

A loss estimated at $1,500 occurred at noon Tuesday when a fire in a Milwaukee refrigerator car, standing on a siding near the North La Crosse station, severely damaged a quantity of beer, packed spices and woolen socks.

The fire was caused by an overheated oil stove, used to heat the car. Small damage occurred when a furnace pipe in the basement of the Burlington station set fire to joists. The blaze was discovered at 10:45 Tuesday night.

Central fire company was called out earlier in the evening to a residence at 311 South Fifth street to extinguish a chimney fire.

GERMAN INFLUENCE IS FEARED WITH DEATH OF EMPEROR

Domestic tragedies, murders, suicides, violent deaths, have decimated his family. His dearest relative, as a child, was his grandfather, a man bowed with the sorrow of having seen his own aunt, Marie Antoinette, guillotined in Paris. Five years after he had ascended the throne he was severely wounded by a would-be assassin. Wars came next and internal dissension. Then, in 1889, his only son, the crown prince, Rudolph, died a violent death near Vienna, the details of which, even after these years, have never been revealed. It was either a murder or a suicide with the woman he loved—probably no one will ever know. Nine years later, the empress, his consort, was assassinated in Geneva. His favorite niece was the next victim of the family fortune, burning to death at Schoenbrunn. The Duchess D'Alencon, favorite of his wife's sisters, died in the charity bazaar fire in Paris.

Meanwhile, constantly a reminder of tragedy was the Empress Carlotta, who lost her reason years before when her husband, Emperor Maximilian of Mexico, was executed.

Nephew Renounces Royalty
Next of the domestic tragedies was when the Archduke John, the emperor's nephew and heir to the throne, renounced his royalty, took the name of John Orth and sailed away with the woman he loved. The earth swallowed him up. He has never been heard from since.

A little later the Archduke William Francis Charles, another of the royal family, died from a hunting fall. Then Archduke Ladislas was horribly wounded by accidental gunfire. Last of all, his heir, Archduke Francis Ferdinand, who had been forgiven for his contracting a morganatic marriage, was assassinated at Sarajevo, Bosnia. It was on the ground that this assassination was done by Serbians that Austria started the great conflagration of the European war by declaring war on Serbia.

REPUBLICANS SAY WILSON CALIFORNIA PLURALITY IS 3,807

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—President Wilson's plurality in California is 3,807, according to a tabulation of complete official returns from every county in California finished by the republican state central committee at 11:30 a. m. Wednesday.

The republican committee has figures on every elector in each of the fifty-eight counties and these show that Heney, the high democratic elector, polled 466,197 and Carlson the high republican elector, 462,390.

Secretary McAtee who sent a telegram to National Chairman Willcox when asked by a United Press representative if his telegram to Willcox is a formal concession of California to Wilson, replied:

"Yes, that's what it means."

McAtee sent the same telegram to Chairman Rowell at his home in Fresno.

RAISES REACHING FIFTY MILLIONS MADE SINCE NOV. 1

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Increases in wages to employees in factories, mills and on railroad all over the United States which will amount to approximately $50,000,000 annually have been announced since November 1.

Following two other increases of ten per cent each and one restoring a cut of 12 1-2 per cent the United States Steel corporation has announced another ten per cent increase. This latest increase affects 250,000 employees and will add about $20,000,000 to the corporation's payroll. It takes effect December 15.

BANDITS RUNNING TRAINS BETWEEN CAPTURED CITIES

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 22.—Since the return of General Trevino's Carranzista forces to Chihuahua City, Villistas have re-entered Santa Rosalia, according to American refugees from Chihuahua City, and the bandits are running military trains between Parral, Jimenez and Santa Rosalia.

Wire communication was again cut south of Chihuahua City Wednesday. On the streets of the northern capital it was reported that the foreigner slain in Jimenez was not Henry Clark, Scotchman, but an aged American enroute from Torreon to the border to escape.

CITY AND COUNTY FOR ISLAND BRIDGE ARE TO SPLIT $610

Plans of City Engineer George P. Bradish, which he estimates will cost $640 to carry out, were approved by the joint city and county committee in discussing the status of the French Island bridge in the mayor's office Wednesday afternoon. The expenses will be split fifty-fifty—twenty-five, half to the city, and the other half divided between town and county. The repairs will take out the old structure for another two years, the engineer reported.

MRS. T. D. CASEY DIES IN DAKOTA

Mrs. T. D. Casey, daughter of Samuel Guertin of La Crosse, died Tuesday at her home in Dickinson, N. D., according to word received by relatives here. The body will arrive in La Crosse Thursday noon, the funeral to be at nine o'clock Friday morning at St. Mary's church, the Rev. Dr. Robert Condon officiating with burial in the Catholic cemetery.

These survive: The father, husband, three brothers, John Guertin, La Crosse, and George and Edward of Chicago, and three sisters, Nora and Grace of La Crosse and Mrs. Lee Alderson, Chicago.

SLICE IN CITY VALUES CAUSES BATTLE IN COURT

that I don't know my business," said Mr. Keizer.

"I don't care whether I'm assessor of this county much longer or not."

Turning towards Supervisor Winter's desk Keizer delivered a wrangling talk, which was interrupted frequently by Winter and other members.

"Walt Winter," he said, "you are witness, judge and jury, all by yourself."

"I think it's six of one and half a dozen of the other," returned Winter.

Chairman Davis ordered that personalities be left out of the argument.

Kindley Gets Backfire
The declaration of Supervisor Kindley that there was not a member of his committee who did not favor the report submitted, backfired when Moran challenged committee-men to state that they did not favor it. Supervisor Wesley J. Dawson declared that he had merely acquiesced in order to maintain harmony.

"I wanted Keizer's report," said Dawson.

Supervisor Moran pointed out that the city was endeavoring to bring about a feeling of friendship between the farmers and the city but that a wedge was being placed between them year after year in the shape of the tax assessment problem.

MR. B. M. LANNEAU ENTIRELY CURED OF ECZEMA — IS CON- VINCED IT'S A BLOOD TROUBLE

After Suffering Agony and Using 13 Pounds of Ointment
Without Success, He Found
Relief in S. S. S.

"For four months I could not sleep at night," said Mr. Basil M. Lanneau, the well known citizen who lives on Confederate Avenue in Atlanta, Georgia, a few days ago when he voluntarily came to our office to tell us what S. S. S. had done for him:

"I was constantly itching from the most aggravated form of Eczema. During this time I lost fifteen pounds in weight and was in the depths of despair. I used thirteen pounds of ointment prescribed by physicians and tried nearly every form of skin tonic and treatment and two skin specialists to no avail.

"Learning that Eczema was a form of blood trouble and that to cure it the blood must be purified, I determined upon giving S. S. S. a thorough trial. I am both convinced that Eczema is a form of blood trouble and that S. S. S. is the greatest blood purifier in existence, for after taking several bottles, I am entirely cured."

We appreciated Mr. Lanneau's statement, because he not only told us what S. S. S. had done for him, but showed us his arms, hands and body showing where Eczema had given him so much trouble and it was really wonderful to see the change that had been brought about by a few bottles of S. S. S.

By a curious coincidence, three days after Mr. Lanneau's visit a young traveling man from Chicago came into our office and explained that being in town on a business trip he had dropped in to tell us how his Eczema had been almost miraculously relieved by one bottle of S. S. S. and likewise showed us his hands. This young man said he had been suffering with Eczema for three years and had been treated by doctors in many cities but had gotten no relief until a retail druggist in Jacksonville, Florida, told him Eczema was in his blood and recommended that he try S. S. S. He bought the one bottle and was already nearly well.

He was most enthusiastic in his praise of S. S. S. and told us "You don't impress on the public strong enough how really wonderful S. S. S. is. That it was a blessing to anyone suffering with Eczema and the whole world ought to know about it."

We were mighty glad that our medicine had done these gentlemen so much good and are grateful to them for their testimony. There is no question as to the powerful influence of S. S. S. in Eczema and all other Skin Troubles that arise in the blood. There are different varieties of Eczema but all are generally characterized by itching or burning, varying in degree from that which is merely annoying to the condition where it is almost unbearable. It runs its course, lasting for a few weeks, to return at intervals, or as is more frequently the case it assumes a chronic form, continuing with more or less variation for years, or even for a lifetime.

It may appear upon any portion of the body. As the testimony of the two gentlemen shows, the proper treatment for Eczema is in the blood, for it is here that the existing cause is to be found. The very fact that Eczema has remained for years and years, a source of never ending torture, in spite of every known external application, should be sufficient evidence that a renewal of skin health must come from within which makes the skin, namely the vital elements in the blood.

The continued use of S. S. S. will gradually eliminate from the blood the excess of acids that provoke the outbreaks of Eczema, and to avoid the intense itching or burning at night, there are many mild emollients any of which will give temporary relief. Our Medical Department will gladly advise you about them.

S. S. S. is made entirely from roots and herbs and positively contains no mineral ingredients. If you are a sufferer from Eczema, or any Skin or Blood Trouble you will be wise to give S. S. S. a trial. There is no substitute that will produce the same happy results. Consult our Medical Department freely by mail without charge.

COUNTY SANTIARIUM PLAN GOES OVER UNTIL DECEMBER

Committee Is Authorized to Investigate Matter and Report at Next Meeting of Board

EXPERTS ADDRESS BOARD
Drs. Dearholt, Evans and Furstman Impress on Supervisors Need of Institution

The La Crosse county board of supervisors will not attempt the institution of a county tuberculosis sanitarium until the December meeting, although at that time it is believed that a concerted move for such an institution will be launched.

A committee of three members of the board, which are to be appointed by Chairman Richard W. Davis during the present session of the board, will investigate the feasibility of a sanitarium with members of the county ways and means committee. The joint body will report to the supervisors in December.

Experts Urge Board
Dr. H. E. Dearholt, Milwaukee, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Anti-Tubercular association, and well known expert on the disease, Dr. Edward Evans, and Dr. J. M. Furstman, city health officer, speaking to the board members on Tuesday afternoon, declared there was a crying need for a sanitarium in this county.

Dr. Dearholt maintained that La Crosse county's mortality from tuberculosis was the second highest in Wisconsin among counties not prepared at present to fight the scourge. The prominent physician, in company with Chairman Davis and members of the board, visited the old Neumeister farm, situated south of the county poor farm, Tuesday morning. Certain members are desirous of locating the proposed sanitarium on the farm, in fact there is a movement in the board to purchase the property. Dr. Dearholt said he considered the Neumeister property an ideal place for a sanitarium. He added that the farm house, located on the property, could be used for institution, with remodeling.

County Needs Score
Dr. Furstman declared that La Crosse needs a tuberculosis scare similar to the recent infantile paralysis scare to wake it up to the need of a sanitarium.

"La Crosse county has twenty tubercular people on the waiting lists of state institutions, which are at the present time full and unable to take them in," Dr. Furstman said. "The country was shaken up by the number of infantile paralysis cases recently. Yet little attention was paid to the much larger number which were dying at the same time from consumption."

Dr. Evans ridiculed the idea that tuberculosis was found only in large centers of population. He said that it was found in alarmingly large numbers in the country.

A LECTURE ON Christian Science

BICKNELL YOUNG, C. S. B.,
Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Life necessarily includes the phenomena of life in all its aspects. Christian Science being the Science of Life, nothing divine or human is ignored by its teachings, but on the contrary a proper and adequate provision is made for the observation, classification and disposal of all phenomena and experiences.

All systems of philosophy and religion practically agree that effects could not exist without a cause. Christian Science agrees with many of them as to the nature of cause, though even in this respect it is far more practical than they, but disagrees with them all as to the nature of all so-called effects. They on the one hand declare with Christian Science that cause must be infinite and eternal, and at the same time they teach that all seeming effects, however material, destructible or destructive, must have their source in the same infinite Cause. Christian Science shows that such conclusions are logically incorrect. It establishes the incontrovertible fact that there are true and permanent phenomena in the universe, and by means of them, when understood, it reveals divine Principle, which conclusively enables one to first recognize and then step by step dispose of phenomena which are not permanent, and which, consequently, in the last analysis, are not true.

That you and I can think—that we are thinking at the present moment, involves the primary fact that intelligence exists. It is self-evident also that our capacity to think is not a personal thing. Every human being has possessed it in some degree, and even the higher order of animals appear to have a measure of it, yet intelligence never belonged exclusively to any particular man or woman or race or creature. The history of humanity shows it to be something more than a limited possession. It is an universal heritage. Intelligence is both a prerequisite and concomitant of all legitimate scientific and Christian endeavor. Its nature is unquestionably infinite, therefore primarily divine. In view of this fact how utterly unreasonable to dissociate God from science. Consequently, Christian Scientists, though ardent Christians, are not

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

less, but more scientific than other scientists. When asked how Christian Science heals, they can truthfully answer, through intelligence, and they can reasonably ask in their turn, is there any other way of doing anything correctly?

Divine intelligence is conceivable only as Spirit, omnipotence, omniscience, omnipresence. It is inconceivable therefore that divine intelligence, Spirit, could not do anything directly that needs to be done, and consequently not conceivable that it could or would provide some indirect means for healing the sick.

Theories predicated upon the necessity for material remedies or methods in healing are wanting in reason and logic. Now observe that the method of Christian Science is diametrically opposite to them. It illustrates the scientific ideal; for even in the mechanical world there has always been the hope that some time or other power would become available by direct means and without waste of energy or loss in transmission. This idea has never been applied to the healing of the sick or the regeneration of mankind until the advent of Christian Science. In this practice alone we have it applied, and the ideal practically realized and illustrated. The power which heals disease in Christian Science is the divine Mind. It is available only as Mind. While the ordinary physician says that he believes in the intelligent use of drugs or other material remedies, we say and prove that we know how to rely upon divine intelligence itself. Where is the real thinker who can doubt that the latter system is far more scientific than the former?

The Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science was the greatest of all modern thinkers along purely metaphysical and strictly philosophical lines. She was not only clear, but fearlessly consistent. When other thinkers came face to face with the conflict between the ideals of life which point to the spiritual facts of being, and the material everyday experiences which conflict with such ideals, they yielded their ideals to the evidence of the material senses. In the light of pure reason it is not strange that, swayed by such inconsistency, they evolved contradictory theories of religion and philosophy. Mary Baker Eddy, on the other hand, saw that spiritual facts, though contrary to the evidence of the material senses, and though humanly idealistic, relate most nearly to the basic Principle and boundless Power which men call God. Consequently her scientific system of healing disease and overcoming sin requires that divine facts when discerned shall be maintained even in the face of any and all material evidence that appears to be contrary to them. This method is in accordance with the methods of the greatest investigators of the world, although it was never adopted by metaphysicians or philosophers prior to her time. By means of this method, original with her, divine metaphysics became a practical science.

Growing Girls and Boys

Every physical or mental act that is performed uses up millions upon millions of red corpuscles of the blood. The demand is enormous and continuous. Is it any wonder that the active boy and girl should manifest this need by hunger? Proper food is required so that the system may form new red corpuscles.

HEMO is a concentrated food made with the idea of supplying many of the elements needed in assisting nature to rebuild old blood cells and to manufacture new ones. It is so pleasing to the taste, so easy to assimilate, and so well tolerated by the stomach that a minimum amount of effort by the digestive system is required in converting the food elements into red blood corpuscles.

It is an ideal lunch for the boy or girl, or a pleasing beverage at meal time. Its use will convince you. Makes a delicious food drink by simply adding water.

ELECTRIC LINE THROUGH STATE NOW ASSURED

Line Will Run from Rochester to Decorah and On to Dubuque Is the Belief

DECORAH, Iowa. — (Special.) — A new project which, at this time seems in a fair way to be put through, is the construction of the Minnesota and St. Paul Southern Electric line, from Rochester, Minn., on to Decorah and to Dubuque. Three auto loads of prominent men from St. Paul and Rochester recently visited this city in the interests of the line; two of the men being President and General Manager of the line and the others being stockholders. The road has been completed and is in operation as far as Hastings, Minn. The promoters say that the line has so far met all expenses from its earnings, paid all interest and accumulated a surplus; that right of way had been secured, gradings, culverts and bridges completed from Hastings to Rochester and the road will be completed through to the latter city next summer. Both Preston and Chatfield are awaiting Decorah's decision in order to name a committee to join in an investigation of the project. Mayor Baker appointed a committee of three to visit St. Paul and make an investigation desired by the delegation which visited here.

Local and Personal
Mrs. Eva M. Fleming, superintendent of the Decorah schools, has been elected president of the Iowa State Teachers' association. Mrs. Fleming is the fourth woman to occupy this office.

A project is hanging fire, which if put through will mean a wad of "long green" for someone. It is the starting of a rock crushing plant in this city, the product to be used for fertilizer and for use upon the roads. It is estimated that there is enough rock, of the limestone variety, near Decorah, to supply the whole state of Iowa for years to come.

In the death of Angelo Sperati, the city has lost one who will be greatly missed. He was born in Tacoma, Wash., sixteen years ago and was the third son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Sperati. Failing health for the past six months had compelled him to forego many of the duties of home and school life.

In his memory the Luther College Musical union will erect a pipe organ in the college chapel and the Young People's society will present a piano to the First N. E. Lutheran church, deceased having been a member of both union and society. Death was caused by tubercular peritonitis.

Barney Graham has recently purchased the drayage-and-hauling business of James Reardon. For a time the former proprietor will continue in the work with the new manager.

Andrew Barth, an old resident of this city, died at the Decorah hospital recently, at the age of 71 years. An operation for tumor was submitted to a few weeks ago, but the patient's strength was insufficient to withstand the shock. He is survived by a widow and five children.

The Civic league of Decorah is making many plans for activity as soon as spring comes.

Before Mr. L. L. Cadwell started for St. Cloud, Fla., last week, planning to visit there and other southern points until May 1, a banquet was tendered him by the ladies of the W. R. C. and the members of the G. A. R.

A Decorah resident, Mr. A. C. Baker, is planning to visit Hawaii, Japan, the Philippines, China, Manchuria and Korea, soon. About fifty will compose the party with which he will travel. Mrs. Baker will accompany her husband as far as the Pacific coast, where she will visit with friends and relatives until his return.

The Civic league has been given, for a very small rental, the basement of the Rosenthal store and will at once proceed to make cozy rest rooms. The rooms are equipped in every way for such usage and the rest rooms are greatly needed for out of town shoppers.

WELLING AGAIN IN LIMELIGHT BY BEATING HAMMER

RACINE, Wis., Nov. 22. — Joe Welling has returned to ring prominence. He earned a clean victory over Ever Hammer in ten rounds Tuesday night, all but knocking the Swede out twice in the eight. Both weighed 135 rindside. Welling earned six rounds, three by wide margins, split three and lost one. Hammer beat Welling about a year ago.

MILWAUKEE ADMITS STATE TITLE WILL BE SETTLED HERE

Sentinel Has Story to Effect That Edgerton and La Crosse Will Scrap for Wisconsin Gonfalon

Milwaukee, home of championship claims, concedes this year that the state title will be settled conclusively, if a story in the Sentinel may be taken as proof. And La Crosse and Edgerton, it is said, will be the contestants for Wisconsin honors.

The Sentinel says: "After much wrangling, La Crosse high finally consented to meet Edgerton high in a football game on Thanksgiving day at La Crosse, which will decide the state high championship. Both elevens are evenly matched as far as weight is concerned and judging by comparative scores, neither has the edge. Edgerton's most notable victory is probably that over North Division high of Milwaukee and its win over Marquette academy.

"The La Crosse eleven boasts of victories over Riverside high and Madison high, which gives them a right to battle for state honors. Neither team has suffered defeat this season.

"Both elevens have several stars in their lineups. Edgerton claiming a stellar performer in Halfback Williams, closely followed by Quarterback Curran, while Coach Bell depends upon Pratt to carry off the star honors for his charges. A big delegation of Edgerton rooters will make the trip to the western city to cheer their favorites.

The Thanksgiving day fray will settle the Badger state honors beyond dispute for the first time in several years. Last year the title ended in a dispute between Milwaukee Riverside and La Crosse high with both elevens having an equal dispute.

DRISCOLL MUSTN'T BE OUT OF GAME

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 22.—If anything should happen to Captain Paddy Driscoll—but Northwestern rooters won't listen to it.

Paddy was out of practice Tuesday with a slightly sore wrist, but was expected out again Wednesday.

A real calamity to Northwestern in its fight with Ohio State for the Big Nine championship Friday would be to lose Driscoll, for with both elevens evenly matched, one hole in the Purple eleven would mean defeat. Murphy is believed to be holding surprises. He has been wary for the past few weeks because of Ohio scouts and it is believed he will open up with some entirely new tactics at

THE HASKIN LETTER

Ghosts And Rent

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 21.
LAST FALL a man broke his lease and moved out of a house in one of the best residential districts here, because he claimed he heard weird and singular noises that could not be accounted for. The owner of the house promptly sued for the rent, but the court upheld the action of the tenant. Then the owner sued for $15,000 damages, asserting that his property had been slandered by the insinuations of the tenant that the house was haunted.

This is one of the most unusual cases that has ever come up in any court. Both parties have strong and just arguments. The tenant was probably justified in moving from a house that contained inexplicable manifestations. It is all very well to say you don't believe in ghosts, but strange noises night after night are apt to get on your nerves. On the other hand, the owner was within his rights in attempting to hold the man to his lease, and in suing for slander, since accusations of this sort have often served to place a stigma on a house that has lasted for years. The most interesting feature of the case, however, is in the defense of the tenant's attorneys, who hold that no slander in regard to the property has occurred, because ghosts do not exist.

According to Judge O. A. Lucas, who is hearing the case, this is the first time that the question of spooks has entered the courts of Baltimore, and it doubtful if a precedent may be found anywhere in the legal annals of this country. So far, the outcome of the case rests with the ability of the owner's attorney to produce a photograph or other tangible evidence of ghosts in court within a month; if this cannot be done, the suit will not be allowed to proceed.

Ghosts, their habits, their haunting grounds and their victims have been the cause of immense discussion and contention throughout history. Since the London Society of Psychic Research began its investigation, a haunted house has taken on a new prestige. It is more in the nature of a valuable possession, to be carefully preserved for future generations, than a horror and annoyance to the neighborhood. An enterprising business woman who keeps a roadhouse not far from Baltimore purposely spreads tales concerning its spooky character—of a mysterious veiled female ghost who always appears at midnight, etc. As a result the curiosity of the whole countryside is tremendous. It is one of the most popular resorts in Maryland, and the income of the proprietor is an effective testimonial to the commercial value of ghosts.

It is not so many years ago that every town, village and hamlet had its haunted house—a forlorn and gloomy structure with rakish blinds and sunken doorsteps that sent an icy chill down the spine of each small figure that hurried past it on his way to school. For years such a house would stand an isolated monument to spooks, shunned even by animals, until it slowly fell to pieces or until some workmen could be induced to visit the grounds in broad daylight and tear it down.

Shortly after the civil war the inhabitants of a small village near Philadelphia were terrified by the regular appearance of an energetic ghost on the property of one of the foremost citizens that lay on a lonely stretch of road. Every night just as

PIMPLES ON FACE
ITCHING INTENSE

Began Getting Bigger. Large, Hard and Very Red. Scattered Over Face. Had to Scratch.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"I noticed that my face was covered with pimples which began getting bigger. They were large and hard and were very red and there were so many festored at a time that I had to squeeze them out and they formed like a boil under the skin. They scattered all over my face and the itching was so intense that I had to scratch my face so much it bled.

"The trouble lasted about a month and I used tablets, but they did not do any good. I noticed a Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement so I thought I would try them. The next day I saw the pimples were going away and I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment and I was healed." the village clock struck twelve a white figure was seen to appear in the front yard of the house, which was an old colonial structure, give a long plaintive cry that caused its hearers to shudder. No one could be persuaded to go past this house after dark, and those who through urgent necessity would have done so could not make their horses pass it. This was the state of affairs that existed when the owner of the property came home from war.

The owner was a sturdy young soldier who had encountered greater terrors than spooks on the battle field and who refused to be impressed by any of the stories told by the villagers. When they had finished he asked only one question: What had become of the stableman whose business was being run by a visiting relative? The stableman had gone on a business trip south the people said. A few nights later, alone and on the white horse he had ridden in the war, the soldier galloped off in the direction of his property against the fearful advice of his friends and the townsfolk. He had great difficulty in persuading his horse to enter the front yard of the house, but finally he drew him up in the shadow of a tree and waited for the mysterious spectre to appear. He was not disappointed. Just as the reverberations of the village clock died away the front door opened and a white figure appeared, walking majestically down the steps and in the very direction of the soldier, who calmly cocked his pistol. "I am going to count three," he told the spectre in a steady voice, "and if you don't throw up your hands I will shoot." The ghost remained silent and steadily advanced; which caused the soldier's horse to plunge madly about in a circle. At the end of "three," however, the soldier managed to shoot, and the white figure gathered its robes about it, tore off its mask and fled. A few days later the stableman reappeared in the village with a bandaged arm, and from that time on the ghost ceased his midnight walks on the soldier's property.

In this case, the motive of the ghost was perfectly clear. Before the war the stableman wanted to buy the soldier's property, but the soldier did not care to sell it and therefore made the price prohibitive. The stableman thereupon conceived the idea of haunting the place and making it valueless so that the soldier would be glad to sell it at any price. Unfortunately, all that he gained was a great deal of lost sleep and perhaps the amusement of watching the scared villagers.

The desire to frighten people is born in almost everybody, at some time or other. Who has not, at some early period of his existence, delighted in jumping suddenly at people from behind a door or from beneath

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Back-ache or have Bladder trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels, removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

a table; making startling unearthly noises, and wearing hideous head-gear on Hallowe'en? To this childish characteristic alone have been attributed several serious "haunts" that have mystified people for centuries.

For example, many years ago, the Wesley family in England was troubled by an interlude of ghosts. The Rev. Samuel Wesley is principally known to posterity as the father of the John Wesley who founded Methodism, but he was also the father of seventeen other remarkable Wesleys. At the time the ghost made its appearance the family was living on the somewhat desolate Isle of Axholme. The boys were away at school and the household consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley and seven daughters. The servant girl was the first one to be visited by ghostly manifestations which occurred outside her bedroom door in a long series of blood curdling groans. At first the family laughed at her, but changed its mind a few nights later when knocks, groans and various peculiar noises were heard in different parts of the house.

For some time the Rev. Samuel was neglected by the ghost, and was furious at his family for paying any attention to what he termed the superstitious vagaries of a servant girl. After this, the ghost devoted most of his energies to annoying the Rev. Samuel until he became convinced and sent for two ministers to come and help him exorcise the devil from his house. The nerves of the family were reaching a precarious stage when the ghost disappeared as suddenly as it had come and the household was once more left in peace. While nothing was ever proved conclusively concerning the Wesley ghost, subsequent inquiry and investigation point to a girl of eighteen, Mehabetel Wesley, a girl of eighteen, who had a lively disposition and a vivid imagination, quite capable of adopting haunting as a means of amusement.

In looking up the past records of ghosts, it is surprising to note the number that have turned out to be the creations of children. Now that the Society of Psychic Research is providing us with evidence of dissociated personality, telepathic current and the various mysteries of our subliminal selves, it is comforting to discover that the greatest spooks of the past have been unquestionably human. In the meantime, the Baltimore court is awaiting with interest the evidence of defendant's attorneys concerning the existence of ghosts.

Luckily for the best man at a wedding that he's content with second place.

WOMAN AVOIDS OPERATION

Medicine Which Made Surgeon's Work Unnecessary.

Astoria, N. Y.—"For two years I was feeling ill and took all kinds of tonics. I was getting worse every day. I had chills, my head would ache, I was always tired. I could not walk straight because of the pain in my back and I had pains in my stomach. I went to a doctor and he said I must go under an operation, but I did not go. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I said 'I know nothing will help me but I will try this.' I found myself improving from the very first bottle, and in two weeks time I was able to sit down and eat a hearty breakfast with my husband, which I had not done for two years. I am now in the best of health and did not have the operation."—Mrs. JOHN A. KOENIG, 502 Flushing Avenue, Astoria, N. Y.

Every one dreads the surgeon's knife and the operating table. Sometimes nothing else will do; but many times doctors say they are necessary when they are not. Letter after letter comes to the Pinkham Laboratory, telling how operations were advised and were not performed; or, if performed, did no good, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used and good health followed.

If you want advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

Foreign Markets

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Steel and equipment shares showed slight gains while copper were fractionally off at the opening of the Stock exchange Wednesday. Prices generally showed irregular and narrow changes.

The United States Steel wage advance, reports that independents would follow with increases, and estimates that the Steel corporation is now earning $350,000,000 to $400,000,000 a year, compared with $125,000,000 in normal times were the chief topics of discussion on the street. It is estimated that increases in steel products made during the past month will more than offset the wage advance.

Studebaker advanced three points; Maxwell 2 1/2; Allis-Chalmers 2 1/2, and Central Leather 2 to 1 1/2. Weakness developed in Steel shares.

Copper stocks continued to move irregularly, while reports of a giant copper merger plan were circulated in the street.

American Writing Paper broke 4 points to 68. The million share mark was passed before 9 o'clock. Sales today were 1,803,000 shares. U. S. Steel closed at 125 1/2.

The market closed weak.

ADOLPH VANDER OHE BUYS BUSINESS IN SALEM VILLAGE

WEST SALEM, Wis.—(Special.)—Adolph Van der Ohe has purchased the milk business of A. I. Stubbs and will be the West Salem milk man. Mr. Van der Ohe has been in the same business before and covered the same territory, so that the business in all its details is a perfectly familiar one to him and nearly all of his customers know him and like him. Mr. Van der Ohe has a fine new lot of Jersey cows.

Show in Town

The people of the town have been very much interested in the B. B. Warning Vaudeville Co., which opened on Monday, Nov. 13 with a "free" show. The show was not only free for two nights but prizes were given away. An admission of ten cents was charged after the first two nights, but there were packed houses the remainder of the week, the "show" closing on Saturday night.

Sells His Property

Guy Ellis has exchanged his property known as the "Meadow Crest" for La Crosse property, formerly belonging to Charles Havens. Mr. Charles Havens and family and Mr. and Mrs. E. Havens have taken up their residence at "Meadow Crest" and Mr. Ellis and family have moved into the E. Havens' home.

Junket to Asylum

The county board of supervisors inspected the hospital for the insane here on Thursday, Nov. 16. The delegation was met at the station and conveyed to the asylum in autos and buses. Many of the business men of the town were invited to meet with the supervisors and enjoy the dinner provided by Mr. and Mrs. Gullickson.

This is an annual event and these dinners have become so famous that it is needless to go into details. The supervisors found the asylum in most excellent condition and recommended the management of Mr. and Mrs. Gullickson most heartily.

Inspector Comes

Mr. Roessler, former state assemblyman, and now state inspector of insane asylums, spent Saturday and Sunday at the asylum here. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Gullickson entertained a small dinner party in honor of Mr. Roessler. There were present Hon. E. J. Kneen and wife of Bangor, ex-Postmaster Wm. Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Coburn and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McKee.

Organize League

On Thursday, Nov. 16 a meeting of women for the purpose of organizing a "Child's Welfare League" was held at the home of Mrs. McKee. About thirty ladies were present and much enthusiasm was manifested. Every woman present joined the organization. A constitution was adopted and officers elected, as follows: Mrs. Guy Wakefield, president; Mrs. Wendell McEldowney, vice president; Mrs. Angus Johnson, secretary of special entertainment and Mrs. John Meyer, recording secretary. A second meeting will be held on Thursday, Nov. 23.

History Club Meets

The History club met on Monday, Nov. 20 with Mrs. Ida Tilson, Mrs. John Meyer led the class. This lesson completes the study of Mexico, and on next Monday the class will begin the study of South America.

Local and Personal

Mrs. Jennie Pettigill of Columbus, arrived here on Monday, Nov. 13 to remain with the children of Mrs. W. F. McEldowney, who left on Wednesday for Iron River, where she will spend several weeks visiting her father and mother. Mr. McEldowney left a week earlier for the woods near Iron River to enjoy the hunting there.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schmeckpeper and two children left on Tuesday, Nov. 14, for Savanna, Ill., for a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Phillips.

A. L. Heyser and A. I. Stubbs made a business trip to Storm Lake, Ia., last week.

Henry Schmeckpeper has moved into his new home and the house he occupied formerly is now occupied by Wm. Langley and family.

Professors John Bender and John Gilbert gave a breakfast party last Saturday, Nov. 18, at the home of Wm. Bradley, in honor of Miss Jennie Dudley, who will leave in two weeks for China. The delicious waffles were made by Prof. Gilbert and could not have been better. There were present the Misses Francis Holford, Jennie Dudley, Olive Cook, Jennie Best, Etta Bergman and the Messrs. George Gray, Wm. Bradley and Rev. McKee.

On Saturday evening, the 18th, the Junior C. E. society of the Federated church held a bazaar in connection with the annual Parents' meeting. Japanese curios and home-made candy were sold and after the sale a program of much interest was given. Diplomas of graduation from Junior C. E. were given to the Misses Gladys Ellis, Marguerite Trimbell and Lily Mikleson.

Dr. Guy Wakefield and Alex Johnson returned from Camp Salem on Friday last. Mr. Johnson brought a deer with him, but he is the only lucky hunter who has reported so far. F. I. Bolles, Martin McEldowney, Robert Taylor and George Hitchcock returned on Monday evening. They report having seen many fawns but bucks were scarce.

Dr. S. R. Wakefield attended the football game in Minneapolis last week.

A. I. Stubbs held a big sale at his dairy farm on Tuesday, Nov. 21. Mr. Charles Baetzle and Rev. Samuel McKee left on Tuesday noon for Westboro to enjoy the hunting in that locality.

The recital given by the pupils of Donald Jonson last Tuesday evening in the Federated church will be repeated in Bangor at no distant date.

Walter Smith, who has been confined to the bed for the past three weeks with a serious case of bronchitis, is about to be about the house.

ART INTERPRETER INTERESTS NORMAL

Haig Arklin, art interpreter, spent an hour at the normal school Wednesday morning interpreting to an interesting audience composed largely of students, twenty of the more famous of the world's works of art. The introduction to the address was given by Mr. Arklin during the latter part of the chapel exercises on Tuesday when he aroused a landslide of comment in the institution by his delightful manner of speech. At that time he gave his audience an inkling of what his main address would be and as a result a large number of students as well as townspeople turned out to hear the interpretation for which a small admission was charged.

MONROE PIONEER DIES

MONROE, Wis., Nov. 22.—Fred Siegenthaler, for a number of years proprietor of the City hotel, is dead here as a result of liver trouble and hemorrhages, following an illness of which he was confined to his bed.

THEY WERE RUNDOWN

How often we hear it said of a man or woman that "they were rundown in health" which accounts for their present sickness. For that reason it is important that when you find you tire easily, when your nerves are troublesome or your work is irksome, you should strengthen your system immediately with the blood-enriching, tissue-building food in Scott's Emulsion which contains pure Norwegian cod liver oil and is free from alcohol.

JUST LOOK WHAT THOSE SOLDIERS ARE TRYING TO DO TO OUR CALENDAR

LONDON, Nov. 8.—(By mail.)—Even while the world war is raging around them, day dreamers and idealists have found time to send a few suggestions from the front trenches in Picardy. A corporal, inspired by the comfortable surroundings of a newly-captured German dug-out, suggests that a new era for the world should be created immediately after the war is over, the year one beginning on the day peace is finally declared.

Another reformer is propounding

the theory that at the end of the existing unpleasantness, the allies should return to the French republican calendar, which begins the first month of the year on Sept. 22 instead of January 1, and renamed it the month of Vintage. The names of the other months are changed, according to the soldier idealist, to make life more cheerful. For instance, the second month would be known as Foggy, the third Sleety, and others as Rainy, Windy, Budding, Flowery, Harvest and Fruit. If this plan were adopted, today would be Windy the twelfth.

Thinking along the same lines, a third dreamer languishing in some shell crater out in No-man's Land, believes the weeks are too short. He would have a week consist of ten days, the days to be renamed with terms of rhythm and poetry, grace and beauty. He also is inspired with the desire for a new era after the war.

There seems to be divergent views as to whether the first year of the new era should be known as the "Year One, A. P." (After Peace), or "The Year One, A. K." (After Knockout).

Photographs FOR CHRISTMAS

ADD to the Christmas Gift the touch of your personality. After all it is not so much the cost of the gift itself—it is the thought of the sender that gives it value. Your photograph will carry with it a touch of personality that will make it appreciated.

Promptness is one of our strong points, but you must not leave your "sitting" to the LAST MOMENT if you want pictures for Christmas. Some were disappointed last year because they waited until the "wee sma' hours." Be wise—arrange for a sitting at once. Appointments may be made by telephone.

Your friends can buy anything you can give them except your photograph.
